Compliance status

Currently, the site is partially compliant with the accessibility requirements of WCAG 2.1 - level AA, due to some non-conformities listed below. A structured technical and design adaptation process is underway and will be completed by the second half of 2025.

Inaccessible content

The following areas do not fully meet accessibility requirements:

- Textual alternatives: some informational images do not have adequate textual descriptions (alt text).
- Color contrast: some text and interface elements do not meet the minimum contrast ratio (4.5:1).
- Keyboard navigation: some dynamic sections are not fully explorable from the keyboard.
- Semantic hierarchy: title structure is not consistent across all pages.
- Form labeling: some form fields are not labeled correctly or rely only on placeholders.
- Focus management: focus is not always visible or properly managed in the presence of modals or dynamic content.
- Compatibility with assistive technologies: some interactions are not adequately communicated to screen readers or similar tools.

Planned corrective actions

We have initiated an adjustment plan that includes the following actions:

- Comprehensive technical audit and detailed mapping of critical issues.
- Updating the design system to ensure color, semantic, and navigational consistency.
- Refactoring of UI components for full keyboard and screen reader compatibility.
- Implementation of testing with assistive technologies (screen reader, zoom, keyboard navigation).
- Integration of continuous automatic monitoring tools.
- Progressive publication of updates, with completion expected by December 2025.
